Annual Review 2012–2013

Message From Founder & CEO

Thank you for 25 unforgettable years.
None of our achievements would be possible without the generosity and dedication of people like you - our supporters, professional staff and volunteers.

Sally Lo, MBE Founder and Chief Executive Hong Kong Cancer Fund

Dear Donors, Supporters and Friends,

We're delighted to report that in 2012, our 25th year, we've helped more people than ever before.

The year was incredibly rewarding as we extended our network of support throughout the community and implemented a range of new initiatives and service programmes.

Over 106,000 attendances were recorded at our three CancerLink centres, a 21% increase compared with the same period last year, and the number of registered users grew by the thousands, totalling over 14,000.

Similarly, we also saw a 34% increase in nursing consultations and a 28% rise in clinical counselling consultations.

We are particularly delighted that two internationally trained clinical psychologists joined our team, to help counsel individuals, couples or families through communication and intimacy issues, depression and even suicide prevention.

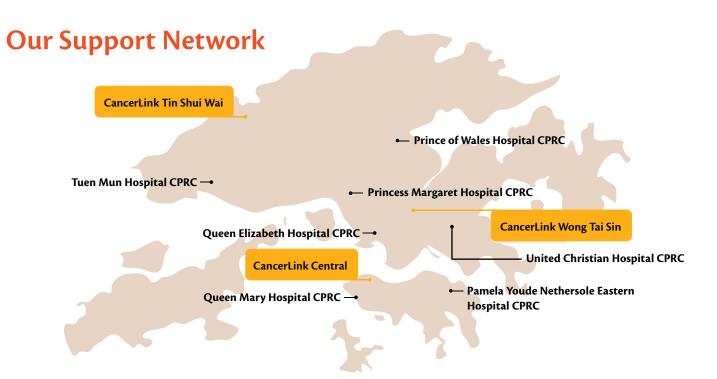

Specific projects are also making an impact. We funded a new Cancer Patients Resource Centre at the United Christian Hospital which will serve the East Kowloon population as a place where patients and their families can go to receive psychosocial support, information and care services through a wide range of workshops, therapy sessions and programmes.

This year, we also expanded our holistic services and wellness programmes by 79%. These are extremely popular with our clients and are an important foundation for survivorship - nurturing mind, body and spirit, and rebuilding self-esteem and confidence on the way to recovery.

Personalised cancer care

At Cancer Fund, we believe everyone should receive tailor-made support.

To this end, we continue to expand and improve YOU CAN – a service where we provide age-appropriate advice and activities for 16-40 year olds, through carefully planned focus groups and peer support. Today, we are helping approximately 600 young adults.

Rainbow Club has gained a foothold, with visits increasing by 9%. This family-orientated service has proved incredibly successful in helping children understand and come to terms with what is happening to their family after a relative is diagnosed.

And, our commitment to improving the quality of life for men continues as we work on a range of new approaches to encourage them to seek help and to address their specific practical, emotional and social needs.

Bringing cancer under control

Cancer does not discriminate and it knows no boundaries. It is diagnosed in around 27,000 people in Hong Kong each year.

In addition to our on-going services, we continue to invest in clinical trials and research, driving forward advancements in detection and treatment. Prevention is key. Everyday changes can help reduce the risk of cancer, and so we continue to reinforce the importance of healthy living and early detection in our extensive education campaigns, encouraging everyone to take control of their health as much as they can.

Thank you for 25 unforgettable years

None of our achievements would be possible without the generosity and dedication of people like you - our supporters, professional staff and volunteers.

We're also so grateful to our donors for believing in our mission and helping us achieve so much. Your contributions are essential and help us sustain our wide range of free services.

We hope you will continue to support us as we embark on the next chapter and strive towards the best care and support for everyone living with cancer. We are your Cancer Fund.

Who We Are

Our mission is to ensure that no one faces cancer alone. We're committed to making life better for people touched by cancer.

We are Hong Kong's largest cancer support organisation, providing free information and professional support to anyone living with or affected by cancer. With a network of free support, spanning the hospital, the home and the community, our mission is to ensure that no one faces cancer alone.

Helping to make life better for people going through their cancer journey, we not only provide vital support to cancer patients and their families, but help to improve hospital environments, drive public awareness of cancer and fund local research and training to better the future of cancer care.

We are also a member of the European Organisation for Research and Treatment of Cancer (EORTC).

Year in Review

APRIL

With the ever expanding growth of mobile communications, Cancer Fund launched a new mobile platform website to serve as a vital resource for anyone seeking reputable cancer information and details about our many free cancer support services on the go.

MAY

To celebrate 25 years of providing free care and support to people living with cancer in Hong Kong, we gathered together 25 of our supporters, survivors and friends to share their stories in a specially produced TV commercial, with the message, "we may not know each other, but we all have something in common, overcoming cancer." The popular commercial thanked the public and called for continued support, and was later nominated in the 'general' category at the TVB Most Popular TV Commercial Awards.

JUNE

Our annual colorectal cancer campaign, 'Don't Wait Till it's Too Late' continued to strengthen public awareness and understanding of colorectal cancer. Our engaging advert and educational posters reminded those over 50 on the importance of screening and early detection. Interest in our campaign website rose by 53% compared to the year before.

JULY

Cancer Fund partnered with Cancer Council Australia to further our efforts on skin cancer awareness and sun protection. We worked hand in hand to promote a range of safe and high quality skin care products which helps fund cancer research, patient support and education, and reminded everyone to Slip, Slap, Slop!

SEPTEMBER

With a donation of HK$550,000 from Hong Kong Cancer Fund, United Christian Hospital set up a temporary Cancer Patient Resource Centre to provide psychosocial support to over 1,500 new cancer patients and their families each year.

A permanent centre will be built on completion of the new United Christian Hospital in 2018.

OCTOBER

Our 11th Pink Revolution campaign called on the community to 'Stand Up and Be Pink' in support of women with breast cancer. With the help of our new Pink Ambassador, award-winning singer Coco Lee, we raised over HK$4million for our comprehensive breast cancer services. Our education and fundraising campaign included Dress Pink Day, Shop for Pink, a discounted mammogram offer, health talk, and roving exhibitions to reach and engage as many people as possible. Our first-ever PINK Flashmob injected a lot of fun to the launch and helped attract a wealth of publicity.

NOVEMBER

2,800 loyal supporters and cancer survivors joined our 17th annual walkathon, 'Stride for a Cure', and helped raise over HK$4.7million. Funds from this fun-filled family event go towards important cancer research projects in Hong Kong, including clinical trials, vaccines, screening programmes and ground-breaking treatment.

DECEMBER

This month saw the launch of our targeted service promotion in public hospitals to direct newly diagnosed cancer patients and carers to our free services. Eye-catching posters were placed in and around public hospitals and mini buses travelling the hospitals routes, as well as featuring in all major newspapers.

MARCH

Cancer Fund marked the 50th anniversary of the European Organisation for Research and Treatment of Cancer (EORTC). Over the last 20 years, we have been part of this global research network, donating funds to bring the most up-to-date information on trials in cancer treatment to Hong Kong.

Our Support Services

Nurturing Mind, Body and Spirit

Difficult times often test our ability to cope, to heal and to move forward in life with a positive attitude. Our Wellness Programmes help clients find the balance, energy and well-being they need to help them recover.

Cancer Fund's wellness programmes encourage and inspire survivors to live a healthy lifestyle, embrace a positive attitude and find the meaning and purpose of life.

We run a wide variety of holistic and complementary healing practices, such as Yoga, Meditation, Breathing, Yoga Nidra, Pilates, Qi Gong, Tai Chi, Feldenkrais Method, Emotional Freedom Technique, Art Therapy and more. These practices are the perfect complementary therapy for cancer patients. Not only do they help to decrease depression, insomnia, pain and fatigue but they also help ease stress and anxiety.

Due to the numerous benefits, the popularity of our wellness classes has grown year on year. To meet increasing demand, we expanded our services, almost doubling in capacity during the year under review.

We ran a total of 61 programmes compared to the previous year's 34, an increase of 79%, and increased the number of classes, from 285 to 522. In total, we reported 13,619 attendances compared to 7,494 the year before, a rise of 82%.

Each programme is carefully designed and implemented by our compassionate and professional instructors who volunteer their time and skills to help others, and we have been lucky to work in partnership with Pure Group who donate their venues to us so we can deliver our services to as many people as possible.

In the year ahead, we will continue to enhance our wellness offerings and introduce the most modern techniques to improve the quality of life and self-confidence of those living with, through and beyond cancer.

CancerLink's wellbeing classes give me so much joy and lots of positive energy. Not only have they helped me reconnect with my body and deal with some of the physical pain that accompanies treatment, but the breathing, meditation and spiritual side has taught me how to be present in a moment. It's brought me peace of mind. I'm thankful for every new, healthy day I have.

YOU CAN - Empowering Young Adults

YOU CAN empowers young adults affected by cancer through innovative programmes and activities. Our aim is to ensure that everyone has age-appropriate support so they can get busy living.

Great care has been taken to tap into our young clients' interests and last year we extended our range of programmes, introducing more team-building and bonding activities, such as adventure-based leadership training, encouraging this group to come together for support, to learn new skills and have fun.

We know that life can be very different in your 20s to 30s and as we move forward, we will continue to customise our services further so that everyone can get the right support they need.

To help young people face the many challenges of cancer, CancerLink started a new youth support programme 'YOU CAN' in 2011. This year, we reached almost 600 members and with numbers rising, the popularity of the group is evident.

YOU CAN was designed specifically to engage and resonate with young people and address their specific needs when it comes to cancer care and support. Our unique set of services includes workshops relating to issues such as relationships, sex and employment, a facebook peer support group, and psychotherapeutic and counselling services.

As a young person with cancer, it can be hard to find people who understand what you're going through. When I was diagnosed, I felt isolated and was in desperate need of reassurance. Luckily, I found Cancer Fund. It doesn't have to be such a lonely experience. At YOU CAN, I found lots of support and understanding. Through meeting many new friends who have gone through a similar experience and taking part in fun activities, I stopped feeling like an outsider and felt like myself again.

Daniel Chan, YOU CAN member

Cancer Drug Relief Fund

To reach the next level of cancer support, in May 2012, we established the Cancer Drug Relief Fund. A joint effort with GlaxoSmithKline, this pilot project is dedicated to offering financial assistance by way of subsidised cancer drugs to low income patients and those in the 'sandwich class'.

For families that are already struggling to make ends meet, a cancer diagnosis and the impending costs of cancer treatments can be a weight that is too much to bear. In many cases the average cost for a full course of cancer treatments can exceed HK$20,000 per month, similar to the median monthly household income in Hong Kong, making the drugs unaffordable for many.

The Cancer Drug Relief Fund subsidises two types of drugs, namely Topotecan for cervical, ovarian and small cell lung cancer and Lapatinib for breast cancer. These drugs help with symptom control and prolongation of survival, giving patients an improved quality of life. Over a three year period we aim to provide support to 600 individuals at a quota of 200 cases a year.

We hope that, along with our existing Hardship Fund, this will help lessen the cancer burden for families with financial hardship and go some way to making their cancer journey just that bit easier.

Cancer Fund is committed to helping make life better for people touched by cancer and increasing a cancer patient's quality of life is an important part of this commitment. This pilot project is a major step forward and it is our hope that the Fund will eventually expand to include more drugs and reach more people in the future.

Sally Lo, Hong Kong Cancer Fund's Founder and Chief Executive

Singing for the Soul

I work for Cancer Fund as an accountant but last year, I decided to volunteer to help produce a choral concert by our cancer survivors.

I have always loved singing and know how much it lifts my own spirits, so it was wonderful to see the effect it had on the performers.

I realised just how much it meant when one of our members had a chemotherapy session on the day of a practice session but still came along. She said singing reminded her how it felt to be alive and in the moment. It helped her stop worrying about what might come tomorrow.

It also brings a real joy and energy to those in the audience. Nearly everyone ends up on their feet singing along to all the golden oldies. Letting it all out through music just works. It's incredibly liberating.

Originally I thought I was only doing a small favour but I know I'm part of something much bigger. I'm glad I'm a volunteer, I've got so much out of it and I'm already looking forward to planning next year's concerts.

Bill Ng - Hong Kong Cancer Fund Head of Accounting & Treasury and CancerLink volunteer

Research Highlights

Each year we fund valuable research projects to find ways to better prevent, detect and treat cancer, to help bring it under control.

Preventing Colorectal Cancer through Diagnosis & Research Programme

Cancer Fund continued to support this free, population-wide genetic screening, diagnosis, counselling, and research programme that aims to prevent colorectal and gynaecological cancer in families with a high risk due to specific inherited genes, granting HK$1.6million to the project in the year under review.

Through the generosity of our friends, hundreds of lives have been saved. In the last year 124 families received help, and since the project began in 2006, 816 families, 2,005 individuals and 4,687 relatives have benefited from the programme.

Those proven gene carriers are now receiving appropriate preventive screening, with over 250 precancerous lesions or early stage cancers detected and treated, sparing them from major debilitating operations, chemotherapy or radiotherapy.

Tracing the mutated gene across the globe

This research discovered that around 20% of families carry the same mutation. DNA fingerprinting confirmed they all originated from the Guangdong province of China and share a common ancestor who lived around 550 -2,575 years ago.

Since emigrants from Guangdong established large Chinese communities abroad in the 19th and 20th centuries, this knowledge has allowed researchers to trace, screen and treat these descendants from all over the world.

Identification of a new gene responsible for inherited colorectal cancer

This groundbreaking study has also discovered a new gene which causes hereditary colon cancer (Lynch Syndrome). As a result, the worldwide standard for genetic diagnosis protocol now includes mutation testing for this gene.

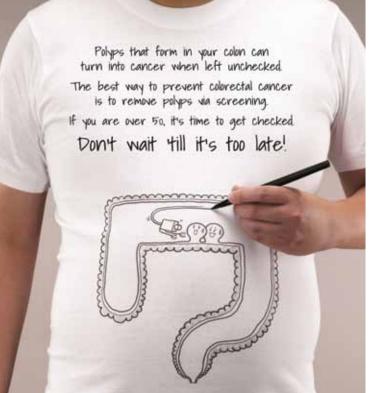

Other 2012-2013 Research Projects

- Combating liver cancer through molecules, Chinese University of Hong Kong
- · Developing a vaccine for cancer linked to the Epstein Barr Virus, Chinese University of Hong Kong
- Improvements in NPC treatment, Hong Kong Nasopharyngeal Cancer Study Group
- · Assessing unmet needs in different groups of cancer patients post-treatment, University of Hong Kong

Raising Awareness

Our public education campaigns are building a cancer smart community by boosting awareness and promoting the importance of early detection and healthy living.

Children Supporting Children

This year, Cancer Fund with Metro Radio organised 'Children Supporting Children', a campaign to educate primary school students on how to support classmates, friends and family living with cancer. Through interactive games and presentations, our registered social workers from CancerLink explained the basics of cancer and introduced our Rainbow Club service to over 3,000 children.

The campaign also included a comic design competition, and local pop singers and renowned illustrators worked with pupils to draw pictures demonstrating the Children Supporting Children theme. There was a great response with over 5,300 drawings received and 20 winners from different categories were selected.

Going Digital

This year we launched all our education campaigns on digital platforms to reach and respond to as many people as possible.

This approach has proved very popular with the public. Within the year, we increased the number of our Facebook fans from 11,000 to 18,000 (as of March 2013) and the number of visitors accessing support on our website grew by 26%.

Inspiring Others

Hong Kong Cancer Fund's annual month-long breast cancer awareness and fundraising campaign, "Pink Revolution", again proved more popular and successful than previous years. With the help of our Pink Ambassador, Coco Lee, we raised more than HKS4million.

Additionally our Dress Pink Day and Shop for Pink events proved incredibly successful. More than 4,000 participants joined Dress Pink Day, raising funds towards our free breast cancer services, and 20 retailers took part in Shop for Pink by donating part or all of the proceeds from the sale of selected pink products.

We were very grateful to have The Body Shop® as our Major Sponsor again, as well as other generous sponsors, Shanghai Tang, Zojirushi and PizzaExpress who believe in our cause.

Stride for a Cure

Our main event on 18 November at Tai Tam Country Park attracted 2,800 participants including more than 300 survivors, families and corporate teams, and brought in a record-breaking HK$4.7million. Stride for a Cure was also supported by a separate off-site indoor event at Pure Fitness.

This was also the inaugural year of an exciting, new initiative in partnership with Nike. Using a free downloadable Nike+ smartphone app, participants were able to run whenever and wherever it suited them during November, and log their time and distance automatically. We had a total of 189 individual runners who challenged themselves to run on their own.

Everyone Can Help

Our fundraising supporters, donors and volunteers are at the heart of our organisation. Our work is only possible thanks to their generosity. Together, we can ensure that no one has to go through cancer alone.

Circle of Friends – a key and stable source of income

Our monthly giving programme, Circle of Friends is our main source of income. It provides a stable funding stream, allowing us to sustain, improve and expand our free services in the hospital and community. With more friends, we can help more people. This is why growing Circle of Friends remains a priority.

DIY fundraising

Since its establishment in 2010, our DIY fundraising platform keeps growing in popularity. Last year, our supporters raised over HK$700,000 through their own initiatives (taking part in activities such as running marathons and cycling challenges), a growth of 37% from 2011-2012.

DIY fundraising gives people the flexibility to create a personalised webpage to promote their fundraising activity on our website. In a few easy steps, anyone can design a unique webpage for a special event or activity, and invite friends or colleagues to make a donation directly to Hong Kong Cancer Fund.

As we move forward, we will continue to explore and develop greater opportunities for people to support Cancer Fund.
